House Among Holm Oaks

Archetype team - 25/09/2026

Set within a residential area of Las Rozas, on the outskirts of Madrid, House Among Holm Oaks occupies a plot densely populated with native trees. The project establishes a measured dialogue between architecture and landscape, balancing presence and discretion.

The house is positioned at the optimal point of the site, adapting to its topography to secure distant views towards Madrid while ensuring privacy. Interior spaces and outdoor areas unfold on a single level, enabling a seamless relationship between living spaces, porches, terraces and garden.
